We do not pay interest to clients on money held in circumstances in which we are not required to do so and where we consider that this would be inappropriate. See extract from our Terms below.

Where the amount of the interest calculated under our policy is less than the amount stated in the terms provided (for reasons of administrative cost and proportionality) we do not pay it to the clients.

The percentage of interest that we currently apply is 1.60% following a review of the current rates applied to Instant Access Savings accounts on the High Street.

This is kept under review in line with base rate changes.
